

Lemonade Sale

Dear Families,

You may have heard your children talking about our plans for a lemonade stand and you may have been wondering what is happening in our room. Last week we saw a video about a young boy who had a lemonade stand. The boy decided to have a lemonade sale to earn the money he needed to buy a new bike. In the end, instead of buying the bike, he gave the money to a person in need. Our class has decided to have a lemonade sale and do just what the boy in the video did, give to people in need.

Here is how it will work:

1. We had a guest come from _____ to share lemonade making secrets.
2. _____ has agreed to donate cups and lemonade concentrate needed to make our lemonade.
3. We are creating a lemonade stand.
4. The children made signs to display around the school telling about our sale.
5. Our first sale will be on _____. I will be asking for family volunteers to help run the booth. We will try to sell during the lunch hour and immediately after school. We will probably have several sales this fall.

Our goal is to raise at least $_____. The money will be used to purchase food from _____. $_____ will purchase _____ lbs. of food. I have also set up a field trip with _____ to a local food pantry on _____. This will give the students a chance to see how the food is distributed. The pantry will also be helping us with our food distribution. When the money is raised, we will contact the food pantry to order our food.

If you would like to help with our project, please call or send in a note. I'm sure we will need lots of extra hands. This is a very exciting project. We are all eager to see the end result. Little people can do big things too!

Sincerely,
